The Ann Arbor Summer Festival Announces Worktable

ANN ARBOR, MI (May 21, 2019) – In a continuing effort to present intimate, interactive experiences, the Ann Arbor Summer Festival presents New Zealand artist Kate McIntosh's Worktable as part of this year's special attractions. This pop-up, live installation will take place at 115 West Liberty and is presented in partnership with the Ann Arbor Art Center.

Worktable invites visitors on a personal exploration of destruction and renewal. Participants arrive, select an object, and enter a series of rooms. Once inside, they receive instructions, equipment, and safety goggles so you can get to work. It's up to participants to decide how things come apart, and how they fall together. McIntosh provides the hammer, and you do the rest.

The Ann Arbor Summer Festival is an exhilarating celebration of performing arts, outdoor entertainment, and community spirit. An annual international arts gathering in Ann Arbor, Michigan, the three-week festival offers two concurrent programs—one indoor and one outdoor—at various venues and spaces across the University of Michigan campus and in downtown Ann Arbor. Each season features a progressive mix of over 175 events showcasing local, national, and international artists and a diverse audience of more than 80,000 people.

The indoor Mainstage series includes ticketed performances of world-class music, contemporary circus, dance, family entertainment, public radio shows, and comedy. The outdoor program, Top of the Park, is held along a beautiful campus green and offers admission-free concerts, Movies by Moonlight, open-air street spectacle, culinary treats, and unique family attractions.

The Ann Arbor Summer Festival's admission free series located at Top of the Park runs nightly from June 14 – July 7, 2019 (dark on Mondays).
